

In addition to regular reading, spelling practice and times tables, you may like to complete some of these activities to support your learning

Shops! Set up your own toy shop at home! Give some of your toys price tags. Take turns to be the shop keeper and customer.	Board games Play a board game with a member of your family. What did you like about playing it?	Researching toys Research/google one of your favourite toys. Find out when was it made? Who made it? Why was it made?
Active Listeners Talk to grandparents or an older relative or friend about toys they played with when they were younger. What toys did they play with? What materials were they made from? Tell us what they said or write some of their answers down	Kim's game To play the game arrange 5-10 objects/toys on a tray, look at a collection of objects and cover them up. An adult will then secretly take one away. Uncover them, can you work out which is missing?	Counting toys Ask a grown up to give you some toys. Count how many you have. Can you put out another group of toys so you have one more and then one less?
Old and new Choose an old toy and a new toy and talk about the similarities/ differences between them	Create a toy Invent your own toy. Draw or write about it, can you write its name?	Andy's coming! Join in with this video at home: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ikY+TKPq19k
