Children's mental health week

This week is Children's mental health week and we are supporting the Sussex based Heads On Hearts of Gold charity. Children have been making hearts and decorating them to go in their windows to spread some love and hope around in our local community and show support for mental health awareness. Some children have written postcards to relatives or neighbours who live alone.

Sycamores

Sycamore Class have had a super week, filled with lots of different activities. They have listened to the poetry of Amanda Gorman and Swapna Haddow, continued reading 'The Invention Of Hugo Cabret' and finished the week making some delicious yogurt bread. To show our support for 'Children's Mental Health Week' many children made some beautiful hearts from salt-dough. It has been lovely to see so many of you on the two 'Google Meets' held this week. Thank-you for all your hard-work and enthusiasm - we are so impressed!

Ash

It has been another great week of learning from Ash class both at home and at school. We have continued our study of 'The Iron Man' and have been working on chapter 4 and answering some comprehension questions. We have also been practising our handwriting and have written out a copy of the poem 'The Coming of the Iron Man.' We have seen some beautiful handwriting from some of you, in particular, Dawid, Abi, Buddy and Tess. Keep it up, we would love to give out some virtual handwriting awards!

It is great to see that lots of you have been on Times Tables Rockstars, keep it up as it's a great way to practise them and improve recall. We have continued to work hard in maths this week too and you have all done some great work on numberlines and bar models using money. Well done.

Today is food day and we've linked it to 'Childrens' Mental Health Week.' We've been making salt dough hearts both at home and at school so please decorate yours and display them in your windows at home as a way of thanking people who have helped you during the pandemic. We have also been making some yoghurt bread around the fire at school, we have had lots of fun!

Well done Ash, you are working so hard. Only one week to go until you can all have a well deserved rest for half term!

Oaks

This week Oaks have been having fun with poetry and salt dough. We learned poems and recorded ourselves saying them. It was lovely to see smiling faces from home too. Using salt dough we made ourselves, we modelled hedgehogs to go with our poem. In RE we started to learn about Moses and coloured in some pictures. Everyone has been working very hard.
